Rape of girl, 10, nets life term

Grand jury report as long as docket

The largest number of grand jury indictments in Hancock County's history—47 true bills—were returned by the September grand jury shortly after 5 p.m. last Friday along with a five-page report recommending various improvements in governmental procedures.

Judge Leslie B. Grant empaneled the grand jury last Monday morning at the opening of the September term of Circuit Court. It adjourned for two days, then reconvened Tuesday afternoon until Friday when it completed its studies.

The report urged every justice of the peace in the county, upon binding over a felony case for action by the next grand jury, to forward immediately the papers to the circuit clerk so the docket can be prepared ahead of time. The jury said it found a large number of instances where JPs certified cases on the first day of this term which were several months old and should have been on the docket earlier.

Particular emphasis was placed on the need for the board of supervisors to secure a youth counselor in an effort to curtail the growing problem of juvenile delinquency. The report cites "very deplorable instances involving 9, 10 and 12-year-old children" in the jail during the time the grand jury was in session. "All of us have been deeply impressed with the problem of juvenile delinquency, and frankly, these children have been as tough as any prisoners we have seen in jail," it urged some other provisions for detaining youth offenders.

Use of prisoners for trustees was cited as bad practice. The report noted at least one armed robbery which could have had serious consequences had resulted from this use. Jurors said the supervisors should hire a jailer as in the past and more closely supervise the prisoners.

Need for renovation and additional space in the Courthouse again was cited as it has been for several years. While the Albert Beam was sentenced to life plus 20 years in the state penitentiary on five indictments involving sex offenses to which he pleaded guilty before Judge Leslie B. Grant in Circuit Court this week. The life term was for rape of a 10-year-old girl. On three charges of sodomy he got five years on each and another five for fondling of a seven-year-old girl.

The punishment was the stiffest meted out so far as trials got under way on the 47 true bills returned late last Friday by the September grand jury. Fifty-five cases were considered and 21 witnesses examined. Six indictments have not yet been made public because the defendants are still at large.

Eddie Louis Jones, Waveland Negro, drew a total of 10 years in the pen on one indictment for burglary and larceny at the home of H.C. Hornum and 14 burglaries of homes in the Bay-Waveland area. Homes were those of Jack Holm, Allen G. Hickey, Harold Schwall, Miss Louella Keller, D.A. Ditterick, Velma Goodbee, Leslie Clark, George C. Falcon, Matthew F. Cazeaux, George Wills, Joseph B. De Laney, III, Mrs. Eddie Hoelzel, Rimore Duverney and Mrs. Lloyd McLaughlin.

An indictment against Jones of pointing, aiming and discharging a .28 caliber rifle at Cliff Vogt and Deputy Marshal Gerald V. Price, Jr., of Waveland was passed to the files.

Melvin W. Jones, alias John F. Ridgeway, from Baltimore, Md., was ordered to serve five years when he pleaded guilty to attempted uttering forgery and 12 years for armed robbery of Beat 5 Constable Arthur (Pat) Garcia and Clyde Ellis, to run concurrently, while a charge of escaping from jail was passed to the files. He is now awaiting transfer to Parchman penitentiary.

Johnny Wayne Booth of New Orleans, drew two years on each of three charges involving burglary and larceny in a Pearlington trailer park. John D. Booth, indicted in the same cases, was reported to be already in the penitentiary in another charge. The property belonged to Mrs. Amelda Hazelberger, Mr. and Mrs. F.B. Pezold and W.T. (Dub) Scarbrough.

If the county could use the statute enacted for the original 1926 seawall bonds to rebuild what Hurricane Betsy destroyed and wondered if federal matching funds would be available.

Dolph Kellar, president pro tem of the board, wanted to know about using some $400,000 of the $468,000 in the seawall bond retirement fund toward the rebuilding, those bonds expiring in 1972. He was advised this transfer would require a special bill from the state legislature. Indications are that a decision on how to act will be postponed until the board gets word as to whether President Johnson will certify Hancock as eligible for special disaster relief under Public Law 875. Estimates of the damage from Betsy were forwarded last week to Governor Paul B. Johnson to help him determine whether or not to seek special relief for the state.

County Engineer George Wier noted that some years ago the supervisors had placed the beach road on its federal aid secondary system and he already has started to seek funds for rebuilding through that route.

Ratenburgs' granddaughter wins plaudits

Judy Berns, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Max Berns of Norfolk, Va., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ratenburg of Waveland Beach, has been drawing rave notices for her performance as Nancy in The Knack presented by the Norfolk Little Theater this month.

"East is home and West is drama school and the twin meet, fortunately for Tidewater theatergoers, in the Person of Judy Berns," said the Norfolk Ledger-Star.

"This highly physical play is further enhanced by a set of performances that I am sure would make its author proud if she could see it. Judy Berns as Nancy is a gifted young actress who may very well make a considerable name for herself," wrote Warner Twyford in the Virginian-Pilot.

The comedy by Ann Jellicoe has been playing to packed houses in London, New York and Chicago. England's Girls Guides had rejected a play Miss Jellicoe had been commissioned to write and her intention in The Knack was to curl the hair of the Pollyanna set.

Judy went to Bay High School when her mother spent a winter here while her father was on sea duty with the Navy. After a year at Northwestern University, she began studies at the Pasadena, Calif., Playhouse where she has run the gamut of theatrical experience. She goes back to Pasadena this fall on a fellowship.

Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—For years it has been a favorite Red Chinese taunt that the United States is a paper tiger.

It really started at the time of the Korean War, when the unprepared U.S. was nearly pushed into the sea by the North Koreans in the early stages of the war and later had to settle for a "truce" after Red Chinese troops were poured into the battlelines. There is no question that image of the U.S. as the strongest nation in the world was seriously damaged by our Korean failures.

Our next big failure, until recently, was in Viet Nam. From the time President Eisenhower promised aid to South Viet Nam until the past few months, U.S. assistance had not matched our words.

However, that picture is now changing. U.S. troops and bombs are now dealing severe punishment to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. Red China has not intervened despite all its threats. And the only effective defense against our bombs has been supplied to North Viet Nam by Russia, not the Chinese.

Thus the monsoon season, which was supposed to work to advantage of the communists in Viet Nam, has seen a change in the military picture in our favor. And it can be expected to change even more as the monsoon season ends.

The Red Chinese thus are in a delicate position. Their paper tiger talk has backfired. Communists around the world are reported asking whether or not Red China isn't the real paper tiger.

This is believed to be a principal factor in Peking's actions against India.

If Peking can force India to make border concessions and at the time settle the conflict with Pakistan, it will be a multi-edged triumph.

It not only will help regain some of Red China's lost "face," a highly important consideration in the Orient, but it will humiliate the United States and Russia to some extent—and that also is important to the Peking strategists.

Chinese nuclear test

Intelligence reports warn that Red China and Indonesia may be preparing a joint nuclear test, perhaps an underwater explosion, off the coast of New Guinea. A team of Chinese scientists and technicians has arrived in Indonesia under a cloak of great secrecy.

Indonesia also has been parroting the Chinese communist foreign policy line, even has sided with Pakistan in the India-Pakistan war, thus faithfully following the Red Chinese example, despite a past history of friendship for India.

H.L. Hunt's real estate

Texas oil billionaire H.L. Hunt has been quietly buying up property between Baltimore and Washington, on the basis that he expects the 40 miles between the two cities eventually to become one continuous city.

The old tycoon usually looks over the property himself before he buys it, dressing in baggy pants and soiled shirt so he won't be identified as one of America's richest men. He also makes the purchases in other names, so the owners won't be tempted to jack up the price.

Senator quits Diners Club

This column recently reported that the Diners Club, which is controlled by the outspoken anti-communist Pat Frawley, is doing business with Soviet-bloc countries, and that obviously Frawley doesn't let his anti-communist chest beating interfere with making a buck.

It also reported that Sen. George Murphy of California, another strong anti-communist, was a director of the Diners Club. We can now report that Sen. Murphy, after reading this report about the company's dealings with communist countries, submitted his resignation as a director.

Bye-Bye Bayh

President Johnson wasn't expected to find out about it, but Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., slipped off to Hyannisport, Mass., recently for an outing with the Kennedy brothers.

Since the President tends to look with suspicion on Kennedy gatherings, Bayh didn't advertise where he was going.

By chance, the President chose this particular time to invite the Bayhs for a Potomac cruise. Bayh's 10-year-old son, Ryan, answered the White House call and explained innocently that his daddy had gone to Hyannisport.

If Bayh was dismayed over this breach of security, he encountered even more grief last week putting together an Indiana art exhibit.

He received less than a dozen art objects from Indiana and was obliged to borrow from the Smithsonian Institution to fill up the exhibit. Then, the Indiana art turned out to be so impressionistic that the exhibit became a joke around the office.

One side filled two sheets with erratic scribbles and wrote underneath: "My dog can scratch better than your dog." Another secretary patched together a zany creation out of a paper sack and paper clips, then labeled it "Pillbustler, $450."

Two of the actual exhibits, fashioned in metal, looked like pieces of crunched auto fender.

"This," suggested someone brightly, "must be part of Lady Bird Johnson's highway beautification program. She's moving auto junkyards inside."

Pro football loses LBJ

Football officials tried to get President Johnson to open the professional football season last weekend by kicking off the first football at the Washington Redskins game. They pointed out that pro football has become America's second greatest sport, and urged him to participate in the opening day's ceremonies as he does at the start of the baseball season.

The President tentatively agreed, and football officials tried to arrange the opening Washington game on Saturday—the day before the other teams played, as is done in baseball. But TV officials refused to change their schedules.

As a result, the President of the United States didn't kick off the football season this year. Perhaps next year, football officials suggested hopefully, arrangements could be made earlier.

Incidentally, the Federal Communications Commission is studying the sports practice of forbidding telecasting of an event in the area in which it is held. This has long been done so that local fans won't stay home and watch the football or baseball game instead of buying tickets, thereby cutting down on the boxoffice take.

The FCC will consider whether to recommend that Congress pass a law forbidding this blackout of local areas from TV coverage.

Ban on auto master keys

Sen. Tom Kichel of California has drafted legislation to control the unregulated sale of automobile master keys. He has learned that six companies now make and advertise sets of keys that will unlock autos of any domestic make.

A Chicago thief, arrested this year, had 17 master keys that would unlock practically all models of Fords.

Kichel believes the federal government should take the lead by barring the mail order sale of keys to unauthorized persons. He hopes this will encourage states to establish stricter controls on auto master keys.

On page 4, section 1, of this week's issue, the story about the Hillcrest Snow looking from the beach. The photo shown in this photo was taken in front of our driveway at 211 Hillcrest. The middle person in the second row of persons in the same photo was taken in front of our place looking toward the beach. Our A-frame on this property had no damage. A-frame construction is much stronger than conventional construction and will withstand heavy winds and greater loads.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

Please send me a copy of the Echo in which Hurricane Betsy damage is described about Bay St. Louis and vicinity. As we used to live in the Bay and have many friends there, we are vitally interested. We had Betsy here very badly, we had continuous hurricane winds 75 to 100 mph for over 15 hours. It became so monotonous that we almost lost our minds. Our damage personally was very light but the Miami Beach area and Florida Keys are hard hit. Thank you for your courtesy in either sending the paper (or telling us if you can't publish yet) if Bay St. Louis is O.K. Send us a paper when you can publish!

Roads and beats

The more frequently mouthed objections by our supervisors who resist proper and lawful setting of Hancock County concerns the roads and bridges in the different beats. It has nothing whatsoever to do with the law, either from the standpoint of law or fairness.

That in Hancock County the practice is to set the road and bridge tax funds equally between the beats. This, however, is merely a practice not required by law and the whole idea of equal systems has been strenuously attacked by the Mississippi Economic Council for years.

My expressed objection to the system in use in Hancock and most Mississippi counties is that the taxpayer gets so much less for his money. And in point to the few examples in the state, the supervisors work together differently, and conclusively prove their point.

The July News-Bulletin phrases it this way:

"Maintaining county roads, the MEC believes, should be done in a more efficient manner than the county unit road system."

If they wished the supervisors could set beat system and apportion road and bridge funds in accordance with need. Other equitable systems could be devised by the supervisors for use if not for economy. Fair and lawful distribution of funds to maintain our road systems. It is another motive, however, that does not exist. It's something you don't have in Mississippi or Hancock County for six years in front of your face, it's the misuse of road and bridge funds.

The reason for us to beat around the bush is that our readers already know it. Road and bridge funds are in part used by many supervisors to finance promises, buy the next election and to finance their own nests. That's why many supervisors oppose the MEC's recommendations, which would give us better roads. They are in the personal empire of their own at the taxpayer's expense.

As we are told through various news columns, through speeches and other means, "police brutality", of two-faced justice in the law working only for them-whatever the charges against the "law" of this state, these charges, true or otherwise, are these days against a racial background, and with the idea that only the Negro and his people receive this treatment and that it is the duty of State executive, judicial or administrative.

Our own experience this week we can testify to. Our illustration does not indicate race, color or previous condition of service. In fact it does not involve State, as distinguished from federal, action. It does, however, indicate some emotions of futility, frustration and a sense of something being "wrong". It does indicate our "understanding" of the problems facing Negro in our various judicial systems, and it involves a more deep-seated right under our constitution provided by Article XV of the Amendment.

It involves the U. S. District Court in the Southern District of Mississippi, its clerk and judge. The clerk of this court refused to file a "legal" complaint in proper form by a white person trained, however poor.

The reasons were as follows: The complainant was not a member of the bar (Since when did a plaintiff or defendant have to hire an attorney. He might be broke, but his attorney is merely the agent of his money, less standing before the "usual" judge his client.)

The S. District Judge William H. Cox had a different and more onerous procedure for suit than required of their agents. Since the province of our federal judiciary to the attorneys? The Code of Ethics of the Bar Association specifically prohibits this to others.)

We are mad and recognize the merit of what the Lord would destroy he first punishes. But along with the far-out-left we are pushed around, whether by federal judges, justices of the peace, sheriffs or governmental officials.

Our attitude toward the U. S. District Court in the Southern District of Mississippi is one of contempt. It is this contempt, not the "usual" but the plans for it in the future.

Smile, dammit

Monday night the board of Hancock County Chamber of Commerce emphasized what we in the county should—the minimal damage inflicted by Betsy and the quick rebound the area is making.

This does not mean we did not have loss because of Betsy. We did. Strangely enough, however, this misfortune may make for an enlarged retail economy, due to people needing to replace items lost during the storm. In addition and aside from NASA's multi-million dollar construction program, we have committed expenditures somewhere around $20,000,000. Louisville and Nashville R. R. expects to spend several million constructing a new bridge over Bay St. Louis—this is in addition to the millions they are spending to return service from Pass Christian to New Orleans.

Also the municipal school district is building a million plus expansion, the county system is less dramatic enlargement, and already both systems are talking about current, and enlarged, needs. We're growing.

There's three million dollars and lots of torn up streets involved in the Bay's sewerage, water and gas program. Waveland is on the brink of following suit.

We could point to other indices of our booming economy, but the real point of this comment is that, even where their loss is total, Hancock Countians are mostly in a position to make it back in just a few years. The fortunate already have it made.

In other words, "Smile, Dammit, Smile!"

"A Conservative View"

A couple of weeks ago there was formed in the City of Richmond, Va., a new society for which a hungry world has waited far too long. It is an organization that bars no race or creed or color. Its bylaws prohibit after-luncheon speakers, resolutions on anything, and the support of worthy causes. It will not lobby in the Congress, raise funds, collect dues, or wear badges. This is the Black-Beyed Pea Society of America. How has the world survived thus far without it?

Your correspondent writes of this indispensable organization with some diffidence, for he had a part in its creation and is in fact its Number One Pea, Pro Tempore. It is an honor a man bears with a certain quiet pride. But the society is of small importance. Before long some irreverent copy-reader will reduce it to BEPSA, as if it were something for acid indigestion, and a headless world will think we sing quartets. It is the black-eyed pea itself that matters.

The Associated Press recently spread the tidings of the Society's founding. Half of the letters that flowed in came from expatriate Southerners, overcome by nostalgia. The other half came from curious readers who appeared never to have heard of the black-eyed pea.

Never heard of the black-eyed pea? It is like never having heard of the Resolutions of '98. In its character, its nobility, its simplicity, the black-eyed pea embodies the very quintessence of this great Republic. It is liberal in proteins and conservative in calories; it is good for man or beast, management or labor, Giants or Twins. It exalts the spirit and delights the tongue. Justly has it been called the noblest legume of them all.

The black-eyed pea has figured significantly in literature. Romeo was not love-sick; he was merely wall fed. As Mercutio so aptly put it, he had been "stabbed with a white witch's black-eye." In the first draft of Keats' immortal sonnet, it was not the broad Pacific that dumbfounded stout Cortez; he was left speechless by the pea.

Soul filled years

No tempest nor struggling thoughts
To mar the perfect vision,
No lethargy or apathy
To make its false incision,
No dross to move or oars to pull

Nor seams to mend the tares,
No wishing nor lamenting,
No donning human cares,—
Just recognition of the Christ
In all that fills all space,
Just answers where questions are

And man in his right place,
Just infinite unfoldment of actuality,
Just unencumbered listening in principality,
Just life that holds all goodness,
Just presence still and near,
Just peace and all tranquility,
Just knowing God is here,
Just oneness, aliveness, oneness,
Complete in all that is,
Just aspiration realized,
In action that is "His."

VETS LOANS

Veteran Administration said Tuesday the limit for World War II veterans to apply for loans is July 25, 1967 and the deadline for Korean Conflict veterans is Jan. 31, 1975.

by James J. Kilpatrick

In Darien. The famished Oliver Twist has been misquoted all these years. What he really said was, "Peas, sir, may I have some more?"

For American authority, we may call on Dr. George W. Bagby, a great Virginia editor, who wrote with a nice restraint on the topic.

"Peas" he once cried, "Blessed Peas Thrice-blessed cornfield peas! Sublime-pellet Celestial molecule! Divine little goli! How much is due to thee! All that Virginia is, or has been, or can be, is owed to thee. Without thee there is no Virginia! The majesty of our mothers, the honor of our sires, the beauty of our daughters, the courage of our sons, the fertility of our soil, the salubrity of our climate, and the magnificence of our scenery, I ascribe to thee!"

It seems scarcely too much to say.

Strangers to the black-eyed pea should know that this pearl of the leguminous universe is known botanically as Vigna sinensis. It is a kind of cowpea, but only in the sense that Hefetz is a kind of fiddle-player. It comes in many varieties, all of them superb, and each producing a satin-lined pod of Kelly green, about half as long as an editorial in the Sea Coast Echo.

The sable-eyed peas that emerge in August from this bower should be picked while the dew is on them, gouged from their pillows, and simmered for hours with sidemast. The pea should never be Frenchified, or given airs, or basted with foreign sauces. It is American, this pea! Let it simmer! Meanwhile, the tomatoes are stewing, and the buttermilk is cooling, and the cornbread is lifting its creamy boom in the oven.

And when all is done, the sturdy soul of our Republic stands revealed—pure and honest and undemanding; kindly, generous, nutritious, thrifty; friend to mankind, not proud, not overbearing. Who can gaze upon this indescribable repast and doubt that Americans are indeed, as it has been truly said, dedicated to peas in our time?

Jaycees to survey community needs

A state-wide survey to determine opinions of Mississippians as to the needs in their communities will be conducted by the Mississippi Jaycees Sept. 27 through Oct. 9. The findings will be used for future Jaycee programs and will be made available to municipal officials and civic organizations.

An even more important, but less easily handled, problem considered was a new home for the C of C. It was the general opinion of the board that Bay St. Louis city fathers would soon be in real need of the chamber's office in City Hall and that the chamber had better make plans to move and soon.

Marochino was authorized to use his discretion in renting a temporary office. To recommend a longer range program the president designated a committee composed of Lee Hayden, chairman, Russell Chapman and Wilson W. Webb.

Subjects include city services, recreational facilities for all ages, educational opportunities, job prospects, industrial development and other phases of community life. He said the survey is in no way political, reflecting only the attitudes of the citizens.

This is the first time the state organization has attempted such a program on a state wide level, although the plan has been successfully used in cities throughout the country. It is hoped the project will answer the question often asked "why doesn't the state do something to promote and encourage civic and economic development".

Bonds...

(Cont. from Page 1.) solution states that the present 2-mill levy for port development, coupled with the rebate in like amount from the state, would not entail additional taxes to amortize the bonds. Supervisors asked their attorney to check into that aspect before they proceed.

Setting the millage for 1965-66 and appointment of three trustees to the board of Hancock General Hospital was deferred once more. Some tax decision is expected Monday, however, since the new auto license tags go on sale next Friday and the rate must be set by then.

Chris Elmore, director of the Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission, and Leo W. Seal, Jr., one of the county's three members on that commission, met with the supervisors to outline what financing is needed to support the program. They related what Harrison and Jackson Counties have pledged.

A survey of where the county's residents live, how the assessments are distributed and data on roads and bridges was authorized on the motion of H.G. Dean of Beat 1 who suggested that the supervisors employ two persons from their beats to make the census. The information is designed to assist the board in handling the redistricting suit recently filed against it in federal court. Suggested new beat boundaries also were mentioned as possible areas for study.

of the week in the 19-14 game was the 19-14 game on Sunday at Sun-

There appeared to be a heavy undercurrent of confidence while the Rocks were leading the game.

See-saw battle between the two teams took the game to a quarter 7-0. The Rocks called twice in the half-time break.

a six-point lead in the final frame.
The end came quickly and was a snapper. It was a tough break for Coach Billy Murphy's side who swore revenge next year.

Leading 14-13 with the ball on their own 25, fourth down, and about a minute to go in the game, the Rocks decided to punt out of danger. But Shaw's linebacker, Mike Pacionica, broke through and blocked the kick and Wayne Temple scooped up the bouncing ball and scrambled into the end zone. A dead quiet hanging over the stadium was broken by a mighty roar from the Eagle stands as they realized what had happened. They had figured the game lost.

Scoring for the Rocks were Larry Boudreaux, who scampered 60 yards for a TD, and Rusty Judlin the extra. Eddie Boasberg accounted for the other tally on a six-yard run and Bud Antin got the PAT.

Statistics: first downs, St.

MSU professor makes land usage survey

Steve Davis and Don Wiltz of Bay St. Louis have returned to school after spending their summer engaged in a Mississippi coast land usage feasibility study being conducted by W. Frank Miller, assistant professor of forestry at Mississippi State University.

The water resources research institute sponsored two-year project, to cost $14,800, is being financed with funds from the Department of the Interior.

Operating on an 80-acre experimental area near Bay St.
Louis, the team is attempting to find the means of turning marsh and low lying coastal zones into profitable areas.

Industrial and home sites, timber growing areas and future development of systems to utilize excess ground water for industry, agriculture and forestry, are among the items covered by the study.

Immediate concern is centered about the growth of slash pine and improvement of these stands with proper drainage and irrigation.

"There is an excess of ground water in these slash pine areas, early in the growing season," said Miller, and a dry period in the fall. We will determine if sufficient water can be removed early in the growing season and then be re-supplied to the area if necessary during the dry period."

Miller is determining whether the irrigation-drainage system will be feasible from both the economic and biological standpoints. Statistics being assessed in this regard include prevalent wind direction, solar radiation extent, average temperatures, precipitation, humidity, evaporation, soil moisture and tree growth rate.

Bay bridge nears end of toll period

The year 1970 should spell finis to toll gates on both the Bay St. Louis and Pascagoula highway bridges if present rate of toll collections is maintained, according to trustees for both structures.

Although opened one year later than Bay St. Louis, Pascagoula ran well in front in toll collections for a long time but has fallen steadily behind over the past year and is now playing second fiddle to its older sister.

Total revenues collected to date are: Bay St. Louis, $8,201,283.97 from 29,634,782
vehicles; Pascagoula,
$7,943,917.73 from 31,961,452
vehicles.

Built at identical bid cost of $9.2 million the two bridges were opened on Aug. 2, 1953 and Oct. 15, 1954 for Bay St.
Louis and Pascagoula respectively. The latter should be free of tolls by 1969, 14 years ahead of its bond maturity schedule, and Bay St. Louis toll free by 1970.

H.P. Heibelberg, Jr., president of the Pascagoula-Moss Point Bank, toll bridge trustee, recently indicated revenues are now sufficient to call bonds due in 1975. Maturity of the bonds

Call relief center 'Gift from heaven'

"I don't know what we would have done without the Red Cross, its just like a gift from heaven."

So said Mrs. John Gunderson, one of the hundreds of victims of hurricane Betsy assisted by the disaster relief office opened last Monday by the American Red Cross in the Bay St. Louis Youth Center on Ulman Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunderson and four children, three to 15 years old, had bought a lot in Shoreline Park Subdivision and moved into their trailer the day of the hurricane, intending to build a home later.

After riding out the hurricane in a shelter, the Gunderson's returned to find both their cars and the contents of the trailer a total loss including all clothing, furniture, appliances and food.

The ARC provided the family with temporary shelter, clothing, food and other necessities and plans are under way to assist in relocation.

Mrs. Roland Osgood of Bradford, Pa., one of three professional Red Cross workers sent here by national headquarters, said the ARC may spend $100,000 in assisting residents of Hancock County rebuild and rehabilitate. No figures were available this week but as of Friday local merchants had received disbursing orders for family needs totaling $12,000. Three hundred applications were being processed Mrs. Osgood said Tuesday.

Harold Denny of the disaster services office in Mobile, Fla., said Tuesday that all the ARC

They gathered together

Fighting against fear, apprehension, physical ailment and sudden emergency, volunteer nurses, their faces etched with lines of weariness, concern and determination, struck back with whatever weapons they could bring to bear to relieve the displaced, distressed, sick and aged persons, all victims of Hurricane Betsy.

More than 500 refugees fled their homes and gathered together inside the sheltering walls of Bay High School on Thursday to escape the many forms of destruction being offered by the 90 plus miles per hour winds howling around their sanctuary.

Starting early in the evening with evacuees from low lying areas, the volume of arrivals continued to swell in accord with the speed of the hurricane's approach until, by the time the first big winds and slashing rains toppled trees and uprooted entire houses, refugees were arriving at the rate of two per minute.

Volunteer Red Cross personnel conducted each arrival to their allocated evacuation area within the building. Soon one of the most non-partisan crowds in the history of the hotel arched gym were gathered in the blackness as though to watch a world series basketball game due to start the following morning while the sick and aged sat in pensive silence in a class room below. The big show however was going on outside.

Transistor radios and portable television sets relayed information to the tense and wide-awake crowd. Nearer and nearer came the hurricane, louder and louder screamed the wind, until windows rattled like a continuing roll of drums.

Children, for the most part unable to understand why they were dispossessed of their beds, clung to their parents or, in complete contrast, played games and gambled around the big arena.

The lights, constantly flickering, and, for short periods, going out altogether, added a feeling of zesty danger and the information of the hurricane's approach brought further despair.

Suddenly the picture changed. Betsy had altered course and would now strike land further west than expected, immediately the gloom lifted, as, with one accord, 500 people instinctively knew the worst was over.

But even as the last refugees came stumbling in, soaking wet after swimming from their flooded homes, attention shifted from the business of dying to the business of living.

What had happened to the house, the car, the pets?

Rumor countered rumor. Reports of flooding, always incomplete and generally exaggerated, circulated freely. Finally, with the dying wind, most people slept.

Dawn on Friday was wet, windy and uncertain.

The wreckage, chaos and havoc was very certain however and many who had lived

STORM'S FURY - Winds of hurricane Betsy still howl in fury and now raging sea attacks wreckage of Inn by the Sea.

BETSY RAGES - At hurricane's height these folks sheltering in Bay High School show apprehension and concern. All survived night but many returned home only to find their house in ruins.

Betsy silences 3,000 telephones

"Southern Bell customers in Hancock County who found themselves without telephones as a result of hurricane Betsy have already had their service now, or such will be restored as soon as possible," J.C. Dabney, local telephone manager reported yesterday.

"Men from throughout Mississippi and other states were rushed into the area and are working day and night to repair the damage," he continued through the night viewed the dawn with even greater apprehension.

For some the homecoming was joyous. For others, devastating.

But for all, after a further day of wind, rain and personal loss, there came a gift from heaven.

The sun briefly shone, Hurricane Betsy was over, and loved ones, separated from each other for a period that had lasted seemingly since the beginning of time, were once again united.

timed, estimating that at least 3,000 phones served by the Bay St. Louis exchange were out of order after Betsy hit the coast and that 2,000 had been repaired by Tuesday morning. "It is too early to estimate the amount of monetary loss resulting from the storm, but in my opinion Betsy was the worst hurricane the Bay St. Louis exchange has experienced since 1947; possibly in the history of the exchange," Dabney said adding that the local exchange suffered more telephone damage than any other on the Mississippi Coast.

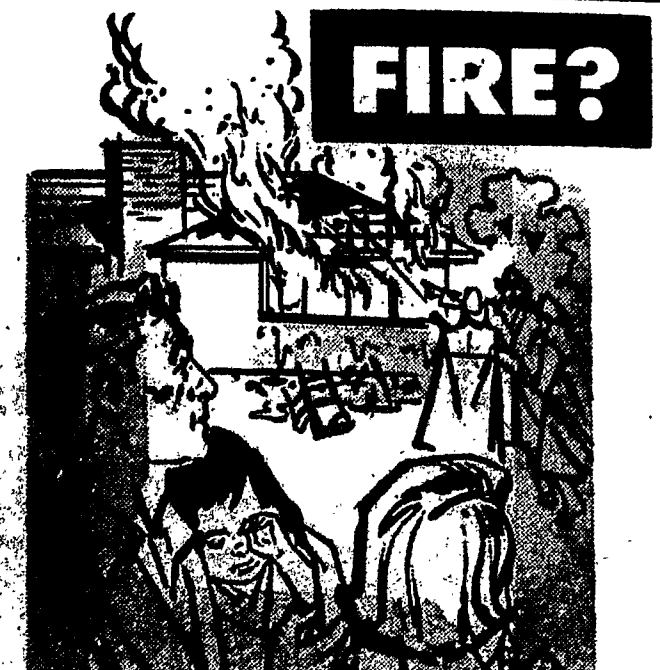

If driving immediately after a hurricane, watch out for fallen wires and tree branches and beware of wash-outs and undetermined pavement.

CHEERLEADING CHAMPS - Erin Heitzmann, left, Toni Ladner, Mary Ann Holne and Kathy Saux, practice during cheerleading clinic held at University of Missis-

Miss Dorothy Carver, fiancée, and Mrs. Carver attended the graduation ceremonies.

Melva Luke chosen as cheerleader

Melva Luke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Luke of St. John Street, Bay St. Louis, an accounting major at Pearl River Junior College, has been selected as a freshman cheerleader.

The cheerleaders will attend all Wildcat football games to perform their various routines designed to rally the enthusiasm of spectators and football players alike.

For the first time in the almost six years we've been writing this column, we find we're completely at a loss for words (and naturally, we'll proceed to not out a couple of thousand); but actually it's impossible to express the feeling one has when even thinking of the utter destruction Hurricane Betsy caused on a large portion of our just a couple of weeks ago, beautiful coast. No words of sympathy to those who lost all of their possessions, belonging accumulated in years of living, will act as solace. Yet in the height of disaster there are those, who like Calvin Phelps when looking at the pile of debris where his cozy retirement home had been just the day before, said, in effect, they were at least fortunate to be alive. It is almost miraculous, when surveying the effects of nature's unleashed fury, to realize not one life was lost in Hancock County, thanks of course to all groups, who have previously been thanked in every way possible, managed to get through to those in flooding areas and to them to shelters before homes were washed away.

Personal loss

Another who, despite the loss of the home purchased only a few days before the storm, Mrs. Fennel, stated that as a result of their personal tragedy, which included loss of all the family's clothing, she had made more friends in a week than she could have made living here for years. People she had never met brought really good clothing, linens, and the like and although we rarely use the name of a company, we are of the opinion that the president of Factory Reject Store in Pass Christian, where Mr. Fuel is employed, deserves recognition. He gave orders to the manager to allow the family to take anything they needed from the store, free of any charge, a really unusual act of generosity. Mr. and Mrs. Fuel have seven children.

Newlyweds Mary and Jerry Ladner were among those experiencing great loss as they had recently purchased Lenfant's Restaurant with its almost brand new residence. But were completely wiped out.

We haven't had time to really tour Cedar Point, Lakeshore, Clermont Harbor and other scenes of ruin, although we've viewed enough pictures to almost dread what the next one will show, but most personally felt was the loss of our 'old' home, now owned by June and Jim Thomas-Hall who had just finished a complete remodeling of the kitchen.

Hurricane evacuees

Guess we'll be months reporting all the happenings of the past week or so. . . Jan (Mrs. Gus) Aime spent Betsy night and the three following in hospital for treatment of a kidney infection. She suffered the attack shortly after midnight on Thursday and made it to Hancock General just about 20 minutes before Dunbar Avenue flooded near Hillcrest.

As we predicted, most who were on high ground remained at home. Rose and John Garza once again drove to Hattiesburg, but were luckier than last year when they ran into a tornado enroute home.

Betsy over '47

As with anything else, some good must come out of all chaos and we can with much gratitude appreciate the relatively new custom of naming hurricanes because in the future we're sure to hear more about Betsy than just the numbers '47.

When Margie (Mrs. Mac) McCutcheon was able to return to her former home in Clermont Harbor (where she found all winter clothing a wet mess) she was most impressed by the sight of an overturned boat reposing against her front door with a potted plant, blooming brightly, balanced precariously exactly in the center of the hull.

Teen Times

NOTE: Due to circumstances beyond control, Teen Times has not run in the past two issues, so, we'll start off by congratulating Bay High on their two victories since we reported on results of the first game, adding that the field was in much improved condition for the Pearl River Central game. Otherwise, we'll continue with the 'old' stuff as there was much in its content that needs printing.

Winifred and Clare celebrated their 18th month going steady anniversary on Aug. 27.

We fear local students didn't really have much time to enjoy their Betsy holidays from school as many pitched in and (Cont. on Page 7-B.)

Tigers bedevil Pearl River C.

After scoring 27 points in the first quarter against Pearl River Central Friday in Tiger Stadium, the Bay High football team, coached by Coach Lance Lumpkin, looked like the squad and turned the balance of the game over to the less experienced substitutes. There were held the Blue Devils scoreless and back to an additional six points making the final score 31-0.

Unbeaten in three starts the Tigers added to a 0-0 tie in the first quarter, then won Pass Christian 25-0 the following week.

Mike Strong again sparked the scoring attack, accounting for three touchdowns during the first quarter. He was in the game for a pass interception forced in on the Devils' 42-yard line, from whence he scored for his third TD with a minute and 6 seconds left in the first quarter. He also kicked the sole extra point.

Alex Romanoff racked up six points when he intercepted a Pearl River pass on the Devils' 32 and balled his way through a pay dirt.

The final tally came early in the final period when half-back Larry Gagnon plunged over from the three. Perry Stephens had set up the score by intercepting a pass on the Blue Devils' 45 and charged to the 25 before being downed.

The Tigers were ready for this one and wasted no time proving their superior power. Pearl River kicked off, the ball dropping into the waiting arms of Romanoff who made it to midfield. Six plays later the ball was on the Devils' two from where Strong took it over. The clock showed 7:53 to go in

Bay's junior varsity scores over St. Martin

More good things to come in Bay High's football future were evident when the Tigers' junior varsity breezed through St. Martin 42-7 on St. Martin's gridiron last Thursday.

Coaches Billy Sills and Wilmer Seymour noted the boys had only been out for practice 10 days, and had only six days work with pads.

Mike Bengio topped the scoring run with three tallies, two on pass play of 40 and 30 yards. Ronnie Woods hit pay dirt twice, once on a 30-yard pass and again on a four-yard plunge. Mike Cave accounted for the other TD on a quarterback sneak. Pitching for the JV's were Cave, Jackie Strong and Howard Schindler.

The young Tigers are scheduled to entertain Pearl River Central's junior's today.

the first quarter. The kick by big Bruce Cox was no good. Pearl River received the ensuing kick-off and tried several running plays but got nowhere against the Tigers' powerful defensive wall so took to the air. On third down Romanoff leaped, snagged an aerial and scored 32 yards for the second tally. Strong's kick was good and with 6:07 left in the first it was 13-0.

Pearl River took possession and again found themselves stymied by Bay High's defense. They punted and after a series of running plays Strong ran the ball over from the nine. Strong's kick was wide. Pearl River gambled on another long pass but Strong intercepted on their 42 and scored with 1:06 remaining in the first quarter.

At this point the first squad called it a night and just about every man on the squad got a work-out. The ball see-sawed back and forth across the field for the remainder of the game but Pearl River was unable to get within scoring distance.

Friday the Tigers travel to Hancock North Central to battle their long-time rivals but the Hawks are plagued with injuries and Bay High is rated at least a two-touchdown favorite.

Bay High made 176 yards rushing and 43 passing for a total of 219. They attempted nine passes and completed three; made six first downs, were penalized twice for a total of 20 yards, fumbled five times but recovered four. Dick Mastayer averaged 40.5 yards on two punts.

Pearl River Central got 48 yards rushing and 35 passing for a total of 83; completed five passes out of 22 attempts, were penalized once for 15 yards and scored four first downs.

Valena C. Jones' Tigers served notice they are back on the road to football glory when they stomped Lucedale 21-0 in their opening game Saturday in Tiger Stadium.

Jones scored nine points in the second quarter and 12 in the third while holding Lucedale scoreless.

First score came when Lucedale's quarterback faded behind his goal line with pass intentions but was bowled over by Larry Peters and Nathan Acker for a safety.

Later in the second quarter Jones recovered a fumble on Lucedale's three on the first play from scrimmage and co-captain Ulysses Sheppard scored on an off-tackle plunge. Harold Bell ran the pigskin over for the extra point.

Coach Willie Bradley's lads returned to the fray with fire in their eyes after the intermission and shortly after regaining possession scored on a 25-yard pass from quarterback Robert Williams to end Alexander Acker.

A 20-yard sprint through tackle by James Peters accounted for the third TD. All three conversion attempts failed.

Despite the one-sided win Bradley said he was not satisfied with his defense. "Although the overall picture looks good we need lots of work," he said, citing numerous penalties against the Jones lads for illegal procedure.

Helping hold Lucedale scoreless were linemen Emmett Acker, Norman Wilkerson, Ronald Atlow, Troy Haynes and Lomde Jordan.

Next foe is Purvis. They will battle at 8 p.m. Friday in Tiger Stadium.

Stone throws HNC Hawks into flutter

Plagued by injuries, Hancock North Central suffered a walloping 47-7 defeat on Friday when they played Stone at Parkinston in a Gulf Coast Conference game.

Stone, rated one of the conference's hottest teams this year, capitalized on running, passing, pass interceptions and fumble recoveries to overwhelm the Tigers.

Glenn Davis, holding down the quarterback spot for injured Kenny Randall, went through the middle of the Tomcats' line for five yards and the lone Hawk tally following a 25-yard pass from Davis to Wendell Ladner in the third quarter.

Stone posted 20 points in the first quarter, 13 in the second, seven in the third and seven in the fourth.

Coach Ezell Lee said "I can't sing nothin' but the blues" following the game. He faces the Hawks' arch-rivals Bay High Friday in the Hawk Stadium with eight first string men on the injured list. Four definitely will not play and the other four are doubtful starters.

On the other hand Coach Lance Lumpkin's Tigers are in good shape, fresh from two shutouts and a scoreless tie. They have had few injuries and have improved in every game.

The Hawks' injured list includes ace quarterback Kenny Randall, out indefinitely with an injured back; halfback Warren Ladner, leg injury; tackle James Ferguson, pulled shoulder and tackle Larry Smith, arm injury. Lee said these men will not play against the Tigers.

Doubtful starters are full-back Eddie Ruzick; tackle Clark Smith; halfback Billie Ladner and guard Glenn Davis, who doubles at quarterback.

On the credit side of the ledger, two lettermen were pronounced by their doctors as fit to play following operations. They are Adrian Pouncey who will probably see action in the quarterback spot, and Wayne Cuevas who starred at end last year.

Stone quarterback Russell Miles scored the game's first TD's on a one-yard plunge and a 27-yard run after setting up the first score with 60 yards on two plays.

Next it was fullback Austin Hart on a 17-yard run. James Conard smashed over from the two for the fourth tally after two long passes. The fifth was on a 52-yard pass interception return by Mike Clement and it was 35-0 at the half.

Miles recovered a Hawk fumble and went 65 yards for a TD in the third. Final score was on a six-yard run by Robert Brooks.

Statistics: first downs,

LOT OF BULL - This is a sample of action to be displayed Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Lazy Y Arena, Nicholson Avenue, half mile off U. S. Highway 90, according to Betty Younger Haas.

PRJC wings pass to down Jones

A two-point conversion caught by wingback Dick Watts put Pearl River Junior College on the winning end of a close 8-6 victory over Jones Junior College in Watkins Stadium at Laurel Saturday.

Watts, former Bay High star, caught the pass with about a minute left in the game to pull the game out of the fire. He also helped set up a touchdown play by hanging on to a long spiral from quarterback Danny Goshagen during a desperate play.

Damage reported slight at MTF

Damage caused by Hurricane Betsy at Mississippi

Test Facility was comparatively light. Only superficial damage was experienced by structures, roads and grounds. Some difficulties may be encountered in the complex electrical and electronic systems at the site due to moisture. It will be several days, however, before such damage can be fully assessed.

Winds of about 100 miles per hour and heavy rains were experienced at the site Thursday night and Friday morning.

Hurricane watch and preliminary precautionary measures were initiated Wednesday as the storm approached. The MTF emergency plan was put into effect Thursday morning when Betsy began taking a more northerly direction. The site was officially closed at 1:30 p. m. Thursday and all employees except personnel involved in emergency operations were dismissed. The base was back in normal operation Monday.

About 350 residents from low-lying areas surrounding the site—primarily from Pearlington and a few from Bay St. Louis—spent Thursday night at MTF's three-story office and administration building. Basically as long as they could one family was put in each office.

A few NASA families who had to evacuate their homes were among the number.

Evacuees began arriving at the site about dark seeking refuge from the storm. They left the next morning. Eight fishing boats took refuge in the boat harbor just off the East Pearl River until the storm passed.

Henry Auter, deputy manager of MTF and chief of its projects control office, took over as director of emergency operations. He was assisted by William Winterstein of NASA, emergency coordinator, and William Roy, plant services director for General Electric. James Travira of Bay St. Louis GE sub-contractor, also played a big part in the effort.

Kennedy to join Mid East forces

Seaman Oscar D. Kennedy, USN, brother of Mrs. Faye Burke of 906 Carrie Court, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Douglas H. Cox, currently operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Operating out of Norfolk, Va., Fox will join the Middle East Naval Forces for an additional two months of operations on assignment of his present duties.

Glass undertakes basic training

Seaman Recruit Lancelot Glass, Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lancelot Glass of 308 Carroll Ave., is undergoing nine weeks of basic training in San Diego, Calif.

He will receive a series of aptitude examinations to determine which of the Navy's 65 specialty fields he will enter and engage in physical fitness training, drill, naval customs and courtesies, water survival, first aid hygiene, seamanship and general naval orientation during the period.

HURRICANE RELIEF

Clothing and other items required by storm victims is available from the newly established relief center in Fellowship Hall at the rear of the First Baptist Church on Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

Bay CD to be commended by local Jaycees

Bay St. Louis civil defense officials are to receive a certificate of merit commending their efforts during hurricane Betsy, as the result of action taken by Bay Jaycees.

In a resolution passed Thursday, wherein the president, Mac Haas, was directed to prepare an appropriate citation, Jaycees decided to hold presentation ceremonies at their next meeting on Oct. 7.

Gas service restored in Waveland

Nearly every gas meter on the Waveland beach front and in every house the water reached was out of commission for a while after hurricane Betsy, but all are now back in operation, reports Mayor Garfield Ladd.

Gas stopped when connecting pipes broke and floating debris smashed meters. Work is assigned to two three-man crews, later and today, and crews worked overnight over the weekend restoring service. No estimate of the amount of gas lost was given. Mrs. Greenlee and Cathy

16th section lands timber sale slated

Monies realized from the sale of timber products grown on 16th section school lands are split 85 percent into the county school's general fund and 15 percent into the forestry escrow fund, according to Arthur E. Verdel, area forester.

Verdel, who operates local forestry programs for the Mississippi Forestry Commission, also stated Monday that a sale of county 16th section timber is scheduled for early spring.

Management of these lands is undertaken by the commission in accordance with an agreement with the board of supervisors.

Speaking of the southeast section of the state as a whole, Verdel said income school lands has been far below that from privately owned lands. As lands are given proper use and management the income from same increases, said Verdel.

The forester also pointed out that over $110 thousand worth of timber products were sold off 16th section lands this past year in the southeast district. A breakdown of sales revealed over two and a half million board feet of saw timber available but it was described by Ladd as being considerable.

born Friday, Sept. 10, in Gulfport Memorial, Betty... she's to be christened Mary Ann. Pat's sister, John (Mrs. Alvin) Bernard's second child and first son, Alvin, Jr., of course, had arrived in Mercy Hospital the previous Thursday.

Beverly and John Binagar, who are happily awaiting the arrival of their first blessed event, played it safe and went to Meridian.

Gerri Blanchard was not so lucky in her choice of refuge as she decided to join her husband, Sam, in the Crescent City A number of North Beach and Cedar Point residents (40, we're told) landed at Caroline Kiefer's Dunbar Avenue home Mary Lou and John Stern, among very heavy losers, were in this group.

And of course, there are a few non-hurricane related events—like, for instance, birthdays. We send greetings to Bertha (Mrs. Everett) Peterson who celebrated Monday, Sept. 13; to Margaret (Mrs. Richard) Shadoin... she took in an insurance executive's meeting Tuesday; and Gladys Noonan said she didn't really feel in the least as if Thursday, Sept. 16, was her birthday.

Lunching with O.B. Moore on Wednesday were former residents, Joe Graham; W.E. Musell, chief of real estate department, Corps of Engineers and H.L. Heck, state chief.

Major James E. Harvey said it took a real blow to bring his brother Harold Harvey all the way from New York for a visit. Also recent guests of the Major were his niece Virginia (Mrs. Joe) Galbraith, from Connecticut, who was enroute to Guatemala to join her husband.

Movie progress

Despite the elements, work on the movie location continues on schedule. Very fancy indeed is the peeped trailer which houses offices, including that of the controller, Lamar Chris. Of much interest to local gentlemen, apparently, is his very good looking secretary, Jeanne Swayne. We also picked up the fact that the third lead, the part of Natalie Wood's mother, will be played by Joan Bennett. We're still looking for almost anything vintage 1930-33, and about now, clothing of this period would be helpful.

Animal notes

We were most disturbed to learn that harmless wild life which managed to survive the hurricane by climbing aboard drifting debris and a natural sort of raft formed by twigs, vine and similar debris, were slaughtered in large numbers when they arrived upon what was left of the beach and/or seawall. On the subject of snakes we realize these aren't very popular, and to the vast majority a snake is a snake. This attitude is unfortunate because there are good snakes and bad snakes, and the harmless variety are sorely needed to keep the rodent population under control. So please, unless a snake is attacking you, and few snakes will attack unless cornered or stepped on, please make sure you are slaughtering a rattler, poisonous moccasin, or the like, instead of a good old king or black snake.

Speaking of reptiles, swimming pool owners on or near the beach have undivided pets in the form of water moccasins as guests. When Jo Cox attempted to drain her pool, the squirming ones stopped on the drain and Ann and Ed Porter have tried a number of methods to eliminate their unwanted swimmers.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - Salt burned foliage appearing to have been scathed by a mammoth flame thrower; huge black billows of smoke all over town as residents attempt to eliminate unsightly residue and a most unpleasant odor in spots; once sparklingly white and pastel hued refrigerators, stoves, washers piled in most unexpected places and the sound of the wind as it blows through branches now dead in September then they would have been in December.

LINDA GRACE SIMON

Miss Simon, related here, is engaged

Of local interest is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Simon, former Overland Park, Kan., of the engagement of their daughter, Linda Grace, to Luther Buddy Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hank Johnson of Kansas City, Mo.

Miss Simon is a granddaughter of Mrs. John Joseph Kalleher of Bay St. Louis and the late Mr. Kalleher and a niece of Mrs. A.O. Hoofield. She has visited here frequently.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Louise S. McGehee School. She attended the University of Houston where she was affiliated with Chi Omega sorority and is a graduate of the University of Kansas.

Mr. Johnson attended Westminster College at Fulton, Mo., and is now studying at the University of Missouri in Kansas City. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

The wedding is to take place at noon Nov. 20 at Cure of Ars Catholic Church in Kansas City.

Native son returns home

Clarence Blaize, Jr., senior test engineer, Saturn II project, North American Aviation, and native of Bay St. Louis, has returned with his wife, Paula, to live in Waveland.

Born on Washington Street, Blaize enlisted in the Naval Reserve in World War II and served for 18 months on a destroyer stationed in the South Pacific. Later after graduating from LSU with an engineering degree he worked for a construction company in Mobile, Ala., from which he was hired by Douglas Aircraft leaving the latter's firm nine years later with the title of senior research engineer. During this time he was associated with flight testing of auto pilot systems and in the research and development of flight control systems of the Nike series missiles.

In 1960 Blaize joined North American in California remaining in that location until transferred to Mississippi Test Facility.

Grandson of Manly Blaize of Louisville and Nashville Railroad engineer fame, Blaize's father has served with the Corps of Engineers for 32 years. His mother was the former Eugenia Klempner of Baton Rouge, La. Busily settling into their new home on Mollere Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Blaize, Jr., are anticipating a Christmas visit from her daughter, Mrs. Leo J. Caton, Jr., and children Carrie and Michael, of Glendora, Calif.

Girls' State group talks to Legion women

Girls' State delegates Caroline Peterson, Sue Ann Bushler, Dale Russell and Pili White presented the program when the American Legion auxiliary met Sept. 13 at the home of Mrs. G.C. Romanoff.

Mrs. Clyde Craig, president, conducted the session during which plans were completed for a busy fall season.

The auxiliary will entertain a group of patients from the Gulfport Veterans Administration Hospital at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday with Mrs. Leroy Luke as chairman. From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday the women will be hosts for the District 9 fall conference at the Legion Home. Mrs. Carl Oeschmann, district president, urged all members to be present.

Mrs. Romanoff, membership chairman, reported dues should be paid promptly in the enrollment drive now in progress. Mrs. Warren B. was elected to fill a vacancy as color bearer.

Oct. 23 was set for the auxiliary's annual Harvest Ball with music by The Sounders from Gulfport. Proceeds will go for the veterans' Christmas gift shop.

Members of the Legion and auxiliary were asked to assist with transportation for outpatients at the mental health clinic in Mississippi City from 2 to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Mrs. Gilbert Gayant won the door prize. The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Rene Bernond.

Marriage Licenses

Miss White is wed to Mr. Larroux

Applications of local interest for marriage licenses issued in the last week by Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis are as follows:

Arnold Rodney Burns, Rt. 2, Picayune, and Mrs. Georgia Blackwell Pittman, Rt. 1, Pearl River, La.; Harold Sweet Pendleton and Renate Brigitte Fisher, both of Rt. 1, Bay St. Louis; William Milton Moran, Jr., of Pass Christian and Phyllis Sue Oliver of Bay St. Louis; Joseph Arthur Sanchez, Jr., of Arabi, La., and Mrs. Marian R. Smith, of Pass Christian; Russell S. Ladner of Clearmont Harbor and Mrs. Florence Carver of Bay St. Louis.

Cynthia Krankey is sporting a ring and we're wondering if it happens to be Sammy's? Mary Lou Cavagnie and Diane Kingston recently spent a week in Florida where they visited Diane's sister Mary Alice.

Everyone is admiring the ring Judy Burson received from David Powell.

Edith Pernicaro and Rosary Buquiel were among those from the Bay who went to see Johnny Rivers when he appeared at Gus Stevens on Friday, Aug. 13. Apparently the girls didn't consider it an unlucky date.

Now career girl, Judy Wilday, was feted at a buffet swimming party on Saturday, Aug. 28, at the Hoffman Lane home of Mr. and Mrs. George Prechter. Guests included Wendy Como and Sue Erhard of New Orleans.

Irma Thomas proved to be quite a drawing card at Bay Waveland Yacht Club's Junior Shipwreck dance Friday night. Approximately 300 couples shelled out $5 to attend the affair.

Annette Ward leaves Friday for Ole Miss where she's to begin pre-med training. Annette is a '64 graduate of S.J.A.

Cathy and Charles Johnson, Jr. are home again after visiting former Market Street residents, the Roseberry girls at their Sandusky, Ohio home.

Suzie Bordages was the weekend guest of Miss Edna Wilson at her Hillcrest Street summer home.

Ann Rutherford is another 'new' car owner. Ann's sporting a lovely white model with red bucket seats and matching interior trim.

St. Joseph's Chapel on Dunbar Avenue was decorated with arrangements of white snapdragons and chrysanthemums for the wedding at 11 a.m. Saturday of Miss Antonia White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Marcy White, Jr., and Jean Francois Larroux, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Larroux, all of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. Thomas White was celebrant.

Mr. White gave his daughter in marriage. She was attended by Misses Piji and Lisa White, both sisters of the bride.

John Seabold of Philadelphia, Pa., was best man while James Fortner of Laurel ushered.

Mr. and Mrs. White entertained with a reception afterwards at their home on Pellicy Street. Assisting the bride party in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Leonard, grandparents of the bride who have recently moved here from Stamford, Conn.

After a brief wedding trip the couple is now at home on Breath's Lane.
